

CAMPER EXPECTATIONS

Here at Jack's Diving Locker, we have a set of expectations that I would like to communicate at this time.

1. For safety and fun, we expect you to listen, behave, and follow the rules – especially when it comes to anything we're doing in or around the water.
 - You probably already know things like pool rules, but we'll go over them later when we're out at the pool.
 - We will also be teaching you some snorkeling and diving skills and it's really important to listen and follow rules then, too.
2. Please keep your voices at a normal volume in the classroom or at the pool. Talking and laughing are allowed, but please keep voices low in the retail showroom.
3. Here at Jack's Diving Locker, we expect you to be helpful, cooperative, and respectful to one another and to the staff.
4. Please communicate any concerns and tell us if something is not going quite right.
 - For example, "My mask strap is too loose." "I'm cold", "I need to use the restroom".
 - We will do our best to make sure you are comfortable.
5. Lastly, we expect you to have fun! You will make new friends and share new experiences. We are looking forward to an amazing week!
